The voodoo token

Voodoo is an exciting meme token that offers great tokenomics and a unique staking feature. Let's dive into what makes Voodoo so special. Voodoo token presents a thrilling opportunity for token holders to participate in staking. By staking your Voodoo tokens, you can earn additional rewards. Staking simply means locking up your tokens for a specific period of time to support the network and earn benefits in return.

The Magic Reward Token

The Magic Reward Token is like a special gift you receive when you stake your Voodoo tokens. It's a reward that adds a touch of magic to your staking experience. But what makes the Magic Reward go up in value? Each time a users doing a transfer, a small portion (2%) of the Magic Reward Tokens is burned. This process reduces the overall supply of Magic Reward Tokens over time, creating a sense of rarity. As there are fewer Magic Reward Tokens available, the price will rise and holders of the token will be happy!

The Poison Reward Token

The Poison Reward Token applies a 1% fee to each transaction, and that fee is instantly shared among all holders of the token. It's like a secret potion that generates extra rewards for those who stake it. By staking the Poison Reward Token, you have the opportunity to earn double rewards. Not only do you benefit from staking your Voodoo tokens, but you also receive a share of the transaction fee as an added bonus. It's like receiving a magical boost to your rewards!
